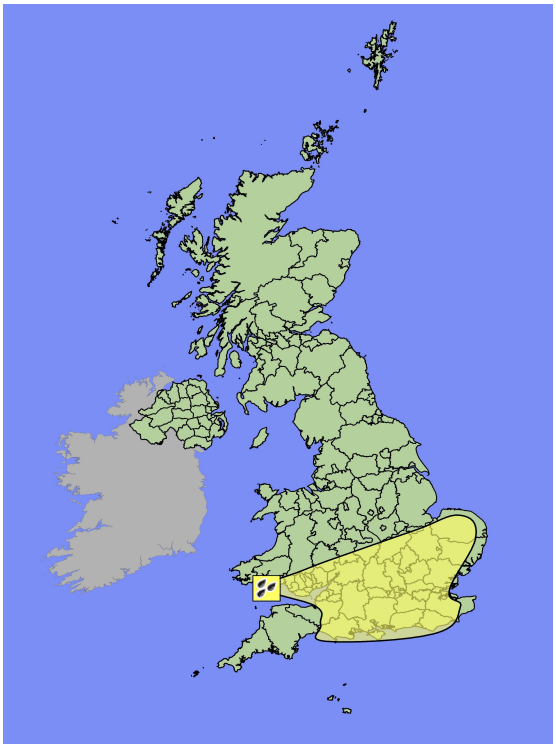
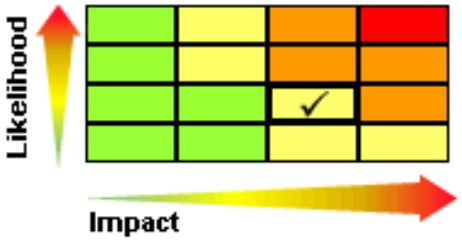
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
Today it is likely that quite a large part of the warning area will escape the heaviest of the showers. However where they do occur they could be very heavy and prolonged, bringing the risk of localised flooding, particularly to urban areas.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Rain

Valid from 12:00 on Thu, 21st Jul 2011 until 21:00 on Thu, 21st Jul 2011

Heavy, slow-moving showers are expected to develop across parts of central and southern England as well as southern parts of Wales. These showers are expected to give rainfall accumulations of 10-20mm within an hour and isolated accumulations exceeding 30mm through the day.
